What, exactly, is knowledge? How is it different from mere opinion or a hunch? Can a belief be justified without evidence? We will explore these questions and more via a close reading of contemporary texts that have played an important role in shaping the philosophical conception of knowledge.